Hey NP! What's up? This is just a short letter and I'm going to tell you about the picture included. The big Game Boy is (believe it or not) made of wood! I made it in Woodshop and it looks just as good as the real one. The reason that the coins are on it is because it's a bank! The coin slot plays music when you put a coin in, too! I'm really proud of it because it looks so much like the real thing.

I'd like to see more stuff in the next Super Power Supplies catalog like games and T-shirts. Please make some more of those awesome Club Calendars and Controller decals because I think they are so cool! I'm trying to convince my mom to buy me some of the other stuff in the catalog.

I recently read Volume 55's Player's Pulse. I decided to write in and give you a few suggestions on what to possibly put into the next Super Power Supplies catalog. For starters, I really liked the Yoshi pocket T-shirt. I ordered one myself and plan to order a Mario hat. I think you should make a Yoshi stuffed animal. I think it would be popular. I also like the idea of Super Power Stamps. It's a great way to save money on Nintendo stuff. I think you should also have a contest in every magazine for a chance to win 50 Stamps.

Hey! I'm Aaron Judd. I took this picture in the catacombs in France. This is the place where hundreds of Paris residents were buried. I hope you'll publish this to show thousands of Nintendo Power subscribers how cool it is!

Recently, my mother has developed an interest in Game Boy. The Game Boy Player's Guide review of Super Mario Land has actually helped me with my homework by lessening screams like "Oooh! I jumped on it!" and "The seahorse got me!" whenever she plays. The first question she asked about Link's Awakening was "When do I get to kill something?" I would like to say that your magazine is great and keep up the great work!

Sean Daugherty

You're in luck! The second Super Power Supplies catalog (which all Super Power Club members received with this issue) includes more great Zelda gear. The items that were featured in the first catalog were so popular—we had to create some more!

Yeah, Aaron. It's cool. But what's really cool is that you carried Nintendo Power half of the way around the world to take the photo! We'd much rather see piles of creepy bones than the Eiffel Tower or the Louvre or something really ho-hum like that. Thanks!

The second catalog is out and we'd really appreciate some feedback on the Super Power Stamps. Are you using them? Or are you saving them and planning to use them later? What gives? Waiting to hear from you.....
This past spring (1993) I participated in the Super Star Fox Weekend Competition. It was a truly incredible experience. After much practicing (and meeting my final goal of beating Level 3) I was able to achieve an unbeatable score. On Thursday, September 2, my Star Fox flight jacket arrived, and I would like to say that I think it’s excellent. I can’t wait for winter to wear it. Thank you for holding the Super Star Fox Weekend Competition, and I am looking forward to the next contest with eager anticipation.

Check it out, Graig. The Nintendo Powerfest ’94 should be kicking off at the end of April with 192 local events nationwide! These events consist of in-store competitions and large parking-lot events. Like the original Powerfest, winners from each event will be invited to a National Championship. Stay tuned for more details!

I’m sending you this photo of Mario (Markie, age 5) and Mario (Michael, age 3). We had a Super Mario Halloween. What a trick or treat! They were crowd stoppers at school, village parties and of course, Boo at the Zoo. Everyone stopped and pointed saying “It’s the Mario Brothers!” It was such a super time we had to share it with you. This photo may end up as our Christmas card this year!

This year's opening day of the baseball season promises more excitement than ever before when Ken Griffey Jr. Presents Major League Baseball takes to the field. Griffey MLB delivers major league action in more ways than any previous video baseball game has ever attempted. And when it comes to comparing Griffey MLB to the load of new baseball titles for the Super NES, it clearly takes rookie of the year honors. This month, Sports Scene devotes its entire coverage to the game that sets a new standard for realistic action, awesome animation, precision control and all the options baseball fans deserve. About the only thing Griffey MLB doesn't have is the hot dogs.
GRIFFEY HITS HOME

Redmond, WA—For the past two years, a team of dedicated baseball fans and game developers has been working to create the ultimate video baseball experience. They began by looking at the old standbys, Super Bases Loaded, Super Baseball Simulator 1.000, and Roger Clemens MVP. What they found was that the play and features just didn’t measure up. The computer players didn’t make smart plays, or the animation lacked realism, or the game didn’t have the right options.

Ken Griffey Jr. Presents

Players show a little character or lack of it, in great arcade style animations

Sometimes the action is more lively than it is in a love game!

Major League Baseball had to address all of those issues head on. You be the judge: real teams and stadiums, rosters that can be edited so they never go out of date, the best AI of any video baseball game, every season option you could want including the 1994 playoffs, battery back up, a home run derby, full stats, and more.

SINGLE GAME
One or two players duel on the diamond using any American or National league team in whichever stadium you want

ALL-STARS
The best of the big leaguers hammer it home when the AL meets the NL at the mid-season break.

WORLD SERIES
One or two players choose their favorite teams for the Series. You can save a partial series with battery back-up.

FULL SEASONS
Play a 162, 78 or 26 game season with the team of your choice. The battery back-up lets you play when you want.
1994 PLAYOFFS

For the first time in history, Major League baseball has adopted a playoff system dividing each league into three conferences, and Griffey MLB lets you play them just like the pros.

THE HOME FIELD

You can play in any ballpark no matter which teams are used. The stadiums look like the real thing and have the actual dimensions and quirks like the jog in the wall at Wrigley Field.

WINNING TEAMS

The players and teams in Griffey MLB are based on actual team stats and reflect the real strengths and weaknesses of the 28 Major League teams. But you can win consistently with any team in either the Playing or Managing mode, even one with a losing reputation. Conversely, choosing the Blue Jays won’t guarantee a win.

The most important factor is your skill on the field—hitting, pitching and fielding. The computer opponent makes few errors and its decisions are always instantaneous. If you’re playing against another person at a different skill level, you can even the odds a bit by choosing the Auto Fielding option for one or both of you. The second most important factor is how you manage your team. How long do you let a pitcher stay in the game? Can you put together a better lineup before the game? Do you make smart base running decisions?

LINEUPS

Managing is critical in the Major Leagues and in Griffey MLB. Although your most solid players tend to be starters, many situations arise that call for a specialist. When you check your Line Up and Bench, notice the ratings for Batting, Power, Speed and Defensive ability and choose the player you need.

BULL PEN

It is critical that you make good use of your Bull Pen, because every pitcher has a Fatigue (FAT) factor. When you see a pitcher panting like a dog, you’d better pull him off the mound, pronto. The background color indicates how hot (red, orange, yellow) or good a player is overall, but even cooler (green, blue) players can have outstanding ratings in some categories.
PITCHING UP A STORM

One of the best things about Griffey MLB is the instinctive interface that gives players precision control over every aspect of the game. In most situations, the B Button gives you control over the basic actions like throwing a pitch, jumping for a ball or swinging a hat. You don't even have to think about it, so you never feel as if the computer is running your life or running your game. Speed, Control and Fatigue are the three attributes of every pitcher. Don't try to burn up the plate if your pitcher is a Control guy with a medium or low Speed rating. There are three speeds of pitches and the directional Control Pad lets you curve the ball practically into the next county. Your pitcher also has freedom of motion on the mound. Even with great pitching control, you have to outthink the batter. Computer batters seem to pick up on tendencies, so mixing up your stuff is essential. Batters also have tendencies. They'll like to swing at anything, so give them an outside curve. Others have trouble with a slow pitch that wobbles over the plate.

PICK 'EM OFF

While pitching, you'd better watch out for speed guys on the bases who may try to steal. The Left and Right Buttons let you view runners at any base, then push the A Button before making your throw to the base where you're trying to pick off the runner. Watch the runners' animation windows carefully to see how many steps they lead off. If it's four steps, you may have a shot at throwing them out, but it also depends on the runner's speed. Although the computer isn't usually daring enough to call for a steal, it can happen, so keep sharp.

MAJOR LEAGUE TIPS

THE TAG GAME

Base runners automatically run when the pitch is away, but in some cases they won't be fast enough to tag up if the defense is on the ball. Once you make the catch, go for the double play.

POOPED PITCHERS

Panting pitchers will throw garbage, much of which will find its way to the cheap seats in the stadium in the form of home runs. Give them a rest and go to your bullpen quick.
Griffey MLB gives players the most realistic fielding control of any video baseball game—the toughest part of any simulation. The problem with many baseball games comes in switching from the close perspective of the pitching view to the medium or long range fielding view. In Griffey MLB, the transition is smooth because you follow the flight of the ball. What you must remember is to move the designated defensive player by keeping an eye on the inset radar in the lower right part of the screen. If the bit is a fly ball, you’ll also see a blue X on the field where the ball will land. Move your player to the center of the X and he’ll make the catch. Line drives to the outfield are more difficult to defend. Some shots are so well placed that no outfielder could ever get to them to make the catch. In that case, try to get in front of the ball to stop it. If you have to run it down, the batter will probably take an extra base. Even more important than simply fielding the ball is making smart plays. Just as in real baseball, you should try to throw out the lead runner and make double plays to end an inning quickly.

Decide on your strategy before the pitch. Do you try to get an out to end the inning or do you have to stop a scoring run? The play unfolds too quickly to let you think about it, so you have to be prepared. Always know where the lead runner is and how many outs you have. Luckily, you can rely on Griffey MLB’s computer controlled teammates to make the smart play.

If you have to move a baseman out of position to make a play, one of the other players will cover the base. In some cases, you don’t have to do anything at all. For instance, the catcher will always run down a pop foul if you don’t interfere. At the major league level and in Griffey MLB, baseball becomes as much a game of the mind as of the body.
IT'S A SLUG FEST

Batting in Griffey MLB may be the most impressive part of the game because the play control is so much better than in other video baseball games. With a little practice, you'll be able to place the ball just like the pros do. Any of the computer players can hit the ball, but placing it so you get on base takes skill. Computer pitchers aren't likely to walk you, so wait for the good pitch and make it count. Use all your options. If you have one or no outs and a man on base, you can move him forward with a bunt and get him into scoring position.

"...you'll be able to place the ball just like the pros do..."

What makes Griffey MLB such a great batting simulation is the perspective and animation. The batter is very large, so you feel as if you're in the action. The depth perspective on the pitcher and the ball is also realistic so that you can judge when to swing the bat. That's what matters, because you can time the hit early or late to place it anywhere on the field.

Once you're on base, you can choose to steal, stand pat, tag up and run or just wait until the bases are full so that the runner automatically progresses. You can lead off as many steps as you want, but the further you go, the riskier it gets. The most important part of base running is the Speed rating of the runner. If he's a track star, you can often get an extra base on an outfield drive or steal one. Slow players shouldn't get greedy.

Great animation and play control make Griffey MLB an offensive hit.

You'll know when you've gone the distance in Griffey MLB.

TIMING

Time your swing to place the ball left, center or right. For instance, a lefty swinging late will put it in left field. A square hit sends it to center.

THE PICKLE

You always have control of your runner, so if he finds himself in the heat, head back to safety and watch for the throw that will cut him off.

TAG AND RUN

Don't expect the outfielder to mess up the catch. Stick around to tag up before heading for home, especially when the ball has a long way to go.

Sports Scene has scoured the game to bring you scouting reports on all the teams. Each report shows the best players on each team at four skills: Pitching, Batting, Speed (Running), and Defense. You can

If you go by averages, the Marlins, Pirates and Cards would be taking the pennant, but averages don’t tell the whole story. The Phillies and Braves both have hot players that can do it all. Even the Mets can be winners in Griffey MLB. also compare the overall level of the Offense and Defense for each team. The numbers are derived by taking the average of all the players on a team for each category.

NL WEST

The NL West looks as balanced as possible, but the averages may hide the fact that a team may have some real talent along with some pretty mediocre players. Look over your lineup before playing so you know individual strengths.

CHICAGO CUBS

The Cubbies aren't especially fast or powerful, but they have excellent Batting and Defense ratings. If you need a quick runner on base, use #6 from the bench. Pitching is good, but not overwhelming.

Los Angeles Dodgers

The Dodgers have a strong defensive lineup with moderate hitting ability. Speed isn't their strong suit. Player #31 can knock the ball out of the park. The ball pen includes control master #9.

CINCINNATI REDS

Cincinnati has excellent balance across the board and some standouts like #1, #36 and #11. The pitching staff, #11 is a real all star with ratings of 10-5-9. The ball pen, however, has little depth.

SAN DIEGO PADRES

The Padres are a very balanced team with just about all of the starting lineup capable of solid stats, but there are no over-achievers here. Expect more of the same from the ball pen—middle of the road.

COLORADO ROCKIES

The Rockies may be newcomers to the game, but they have some talent. For hitting, go to #14 while infield specialist #27 is a great defensive player. The pitchers have above average ratings in most categories.

SAN FRANCISCO GIANTS

The Giants have exceptional players, including #25 who is one of the best in the game, and #9 who is nearly as good. You can also throw #24 off the bench. The pitching staff is led by #25, #26 and #27.

AL EAST

Although the Blue Jays have taken the World Series in the real world for the past two years, the competition in the AL East remains intense with the Yankees and Tigers in close pursuit. The Red Sox and Orioles provide more of a challenge.

Baltimore Orioles

The Orioles are the perfect team to see when you think you've mastered the game. The defense and speed ratings are unusually low. You'll have to play flawless ball to win. Luckily, you'll have some pitching.

AL WEST

The AL West is always a dogfight, but the balance and competition has gone up a notch in the past few years. The teams in Griffey MLB reflect how the race has heated up now that the Mariners, A's and Angels are back in the hunt.

---

CALIFORNIA ANGELS

The Angels have a solid bench and some stars like #15 and #9 who can hit and play good defense as well. On the pitching mound, the top three of #12, #31 and #22 are all excellent with high Fatigue ratings.

OAKLAND ATHLETICS

Oakland has pretty good defense, but the hitting and speed categories won't impress anyone. Make the best use of the lineup that you can. The bullpen is led with solid pitchers with several styles.

CHICAGO WHITE SOX

White Sox #35 may not be fastest, but he's one of the best players in the game. With #8, #23, #1 and #13 the ChiSox are strong everywhere. They also have two of the best pitchers #29 and #32.

---

SEATTLE MARINERS

Ken Griffey Jr. was the overall best player to date with a rating of 10-10-6-10. The rest of the starting lineup is only a bit above average. The pitchers are led by outstanding #51, #39 and #23.

---

KANSAS CITY ROYALS

The Royals have a strong team defense that extends down to the players on the bench. Hitting is more of a trouble zone, but most starters rank in the 7a and 8b. Pitching is led by #15 and #17.

---

TEXAS RANGERS

The Rangers' powerhouse is fueled by #15, #19, #7 and #15. The bench is also fairly strong in most categories. The pitching staff features strong arms in #41, #31, #32, #53 and #54.
Step onto the bridge of the Federation starship Enterprise. The crew awaits your command to send them on a voyage of discovery. You'll encounter new life and new civilizations, and alien threats in the depths of space. If you're ready to beam down to planets, battle Romulans in space and visit far-flung star bases, then engage.

WHERE NO ONE HAS GONE

Spectrum Holobyte made Star Trek: The Next Generation the game so like the hit syndicated series that fans will feel right at home. You must solve a mystery while warping about the galaxy, but you'll also have to obey Star Fleet regulations and stay alive.
Controlling the Enterprise and the Away Teams will take some practice. Familiarize yourself with the different ship's systems on the bridge so that you can access information and controls quickly. Navigation, Engineering and the Transporter room are the most critical systems.

COMPUTER DATA
Access information about the Star Fleet, planets and other subjects through the ship's computer. You'll also find the Password save feature in this area.

BRIDGE
Answer hails and set your course to distant star systems at the comm/nav console. Once you've highlighted your destination, remember to push the B button.

COMM/NAV

SENSORS
Sensor readings tell you about the conditions on planetary bodies or ships, like whether there is breathable oxygen or not.

ENGINEERING SYSTEMS
Set ship resources to your battle systems; weapons and shields to withstand enemy attacks. After fighting, immediately go to Engineering to repair as much damage as possible.

TRANSPORTER ROOM
Choose Away Teams then beam them down to their mission sites. Selection of team members can be critical. Geordi and Data are particularly versatile. You don't need to fill all four slots.

BRIEFING ROOM
Captain Picard reviews mission data and goals with his officers in his Ready Room before an Away Mission.
RAISE SHIELDS

The constant space battles are annoying, and if you hail the enemy, you will probably surrender automatically. Your chances of going free increase if you have been merciful to past enemies. It's best to fight until the enemy hails you, then answer the signal.

REPAIR THE ENTERPRISE

Immediately after a battle, go to Engineering and use the computer to repair the Enterprise completely. Don't answer the hail until you're healed! It is quite likely that another enemy is waiting.

REGULATIONS

Star Fleet regulations prohibit the use of excessive force in battle. That means that if enemies want to surrender, you'd better let them do it. Don't ever ignore an enemy's hail.

TACTICAL TIPS

Keep your strongest shields toward the enemy. Phasers only work in the closest two grids, so stay close. Some captains prefer sitting still and spinning. Attack with replenished torpedo tubes and Phaser banks.

REGULATIONS

Star Fleet regulations prohibit the use of excessive force in battle. That means that if enemies want to surrender, you'd better let them do it. Don't ever ignore an enemy's hail.

VISIT THREE STAR BASES

There are three Star Bases in the game: Signis Epsilon IB, Wiki Beta VIIA, and Codis Zeta VA. You can get passwords at any base, and the Enterprise will be repaired and re-stocked with a new load of 275 Photon torpedoes. Always go to a Star Base after completing a mission so you don't have to repeat a stage.
Your journey begins when a distress signal from Vulcan archaeologist Dr. T'Lirus is received from her dig on Codis Mu VI. Romulans have attacked the ancient site and are threatening her work. You must frighten off the Romulans and protect the important research going on down on the planet.

Codis Mu Redux

Later in the game you'll have to return to Codis Mu with an ancient device called the Tavad. Dr. T'Lirus will have information about the mysterious IFD.

Once you have the Tavad from Mission 2, you'll need to return to the Codis Mu system and give it to Dr. T'Lirus.
MISSION 2: ORIENTIS ALPHA IV

This mission begins as a race to save a plague-infested planet but ends up in an ancient derelict spacecraft where an army of robots protects a secret that has been kept for 100,000 years. Your Away Team must restart the ship and wake the alien crew.

1. GEORDI'S VISOR

The alien vessel has no power when you first arrive. In the darkness, Geordi has the advantage of being able to see with his special visor. Without Geordi, you'll be blind.

Choosing Away Teams carefully is critical. Some crew members like Geordi have special skills.

2. CIRCUIT BREAK

Look for two circuit breakers in the cupboards near the rear of the room. The breakers will fit in the two holes on the power switch wall.

3. SWITCH THE ROBOTS OFF

In the fore and aft areas, you'll be attacked by robots that materialize out of wall panels. Turn off the security at nearby consoles to deactivate the panels. There's also a central computer that controls all robot panels, if you can find it.
On the right side of the ship you'll find the cargo hold. Wind your way through the stacks of crates until you reach the rear wall. There you'll find several tanks, a machine and computer components. Use the machine near the door to the alien's cocoon chamber.

Several circuit boards in the central computer have been damaged. Replacement boards can be found scattered throughout the ship. Collect the pieces and fit them into the panel to complete the circuit.

Connect the energy tanks where the symbols match the wall symbol, then push the red ignition button and the ship's computer and engines will come back on line.

Restoring the ship's systems also wakes up the alien crew—the Eunacians—who tell a strange tale about the Integrated Field Demanderizer and how they sent this potentially omnipotent machine into the future.

The grateful Eunacians present the Enterprise with their Tovad, a device which will become useful to you later in the game.
MISSION 3:
ORIENTIS GAMMA III

Now Star Fleet command will apprise you of a dire situation on Orientis Gamma IIIIB, a mining moon where ten miners are trapped below the surface. Use Data, because he doesn't need air.

1 OXYGEN

Be sure to activate the oxygen supply on each level of the mine before freeing the miners. Data is the man of the hour.

2 A BLAST OF PHASER POWER

Certain areas of the mines have been blocked by wooden walls while other areas are separated by stone. Use the hand phaser to blast a hole through the obstruction so you can search the areas beyond. Keep track of your progress on the maps of the mines or you may end up lost in the maze.
The aliens have wound their silk cocoons around the hapless miners. Use your hand phaser to burn through the cocoons and free the miners. Make sure the air is turned on.

3 DON’T SHOOT THE COCOONS

4 TRACK TREK
Dodge between the mine cars as they roll along the tracks and work your way to the right so you can duck down the tunnel on the far side.

5 SKY BRIDGE
Take the elevator to the third level, then look for the switch near the bridge to extend the passage to the final area of the mine.

YOU SHALL RETURN
Your quest will bring you back to the mine for the rare Pallenium and Ravarium ores. The grateful miners will give you nuggets.
Dr. T'Lirus will contact you and ask you to return to Codis Zeta VI. She has uncovered information about the Tavad you received from the derelict ship and how it is connected to the IFD. The trail of clues leads you to a sleazy bar, a Federation ship in distress and beyond.

PLAK ATTACK?

You'll encounter a Ferengi trader with questionable relations with the Romulans, but he leads you to a more powerful Ferengi Daimon.

CODIS ZETA

At this Star Base you'll learn that Daimon Radny has arrived ahead of you. Your dealings with Radny and others begin a series of trades that will result in getting the Tavad powered up so you can access the IFD.

DR. T'LIRUS

Dr. T'Lirus' excavations have uncovered important facts concerning the IFD.

PASSWORDS

After finishing each mission, return to one of the three Star Bases and save your game so you don't have to repeat steps.

HAPPY HAVEN

Daimon Radny has the key to unscrambling the Romulan communiques, but he'll want something valuable in return. In Fizaal's, however, the clientele is anything but forthcoming. It will take a special effort by a particular member of the crew to draw out the information you need.
TRUST TROI

Counselor Troi's Betazoid talents at telepathy will pave the way for a deal between the Enterprise and the Ferengi Dairnon. Take Troi to the bar and she'll lead you to Radny.

RADNY'S PRICE

Radny doesn't strike as tough a deal as you might think. All he wants is for someone to buy his sonic impactors. You just have to find a buyer.

STAR FLEET S.O.S.

The Federation freighter Nakatomi has sent out an S.O.S. and the Enterprise must go to the aid of the ship and crew, which has come under attack.

THE IFD

Once the miners have the sonic impactors, they'll give you precious nuggets of ore that will power the Tavad and force the appearance of the Integrated Field Demondizer—the awesome weapon of the ancient Senatorius. Now the IFD will send you on a new quest, and a test of the metal of human-kind.
Hi Tech Expressions' latest title brings Mickey and Minnie to the Super NES in a game designed to entertain and challenge junior mouseketeers. Five different Disney characters challenge young players to solve problems by recognizing and matching objects, reproducing sound sequences and using basic reasoning skills. Players can opt to be either Mickey or Minnie in this one-player puzzler that should prove to be fun for its intended audience.

What's Shaking?

Mickey dreams of traveling to a castle in a far-off land, where the residents are constantly tormented by earthquakes. When the palace guard tells Mickey that they don't know what's causing the quakes, he sets out to get to the bottom—or top—of things. On his quest, he must meet the challenges set forth by the different characters he meets. The difficulty of the challenges and the kinds of clues they give depend on which of the three difficulty settings the player selects before beginning.

Goofy

Goofy is in the blacksmith's shop, killing time while waiting for more metal. He'll challenge Mickey by making him guess the order of the tools in his box. He gives lots of clues in the easiest mode but only hints at the right answer at the more difficult settings.
Donald is practicing magic spells. When he accidentally shrinks Mickey, the mini-mouse must push potions through a magic mirror.

Nearsighted Horace, working in the palace library, has lost his glasses and needs help sorting books alphabetically. If Mickey can help him shelve the books in the right order, he'll earn a reward of pure gold.

At the easy level, players find alphabet sequences. At the difficult level, they find letters that complete words.

Huey, Dewey & Louie

The nephews can't open the drawbridge. Mickey helps by following the pattern of the pumps, jumping on them in the order that they light up.

Mickey must watch and listen as the pumps sound and light up, then he jumps on them in the same order to make the drawbridge open.

What can be causing all of these earthquakes?
It's a sad situation when you don't dare venture outside of your home in the daytime. But that's exactly what Neo New York citizens face in the year 2097. An intimidating rogue named Raptor and his menacing mutating Morphs have corrupted the city and taken over Neo New York. Many other key locations throughout the country have fallen to his minions as well. Activision's newest Super NES game will bring out the hero in you as you fight to regain control of Neo New York and ultimately uncover the dastardly plot of world domination.

RAPTOR RUNS RAMPANT

Special Forces members Slash and Alix are the only two members of an elite Neo New York crime-fighting force that Raptor doesn't have in his pocket. Alix gets kidnapped and Slash, with trusty X-Kaliber at his side, must go after her! psyko sounds Psykosonik, a techno-pop quartet, laid down the tracks to back up X-Kaliber 2097. Their tunes provide an edge for the action game.

SWORD PLAY

X-Kaliber is the most powerful sword in the world. Slash has it. Raptor wants it... at all costs! That's why Raptor had Alix kidnapped. He knew that Slash would come after her. Raptor knows Slash all too well—they're brothers!

X-Kaliber can slash through the wimpy Morps with one blow! Slash can also use X-Kaliber as a shield to protect himself from enemy fire. More powerful blasters from X-Kaliber will render stronger Morps useless as well!

2-PLAYER DUEL

X-Kaliber 2097's 2-player mode is a pretty cool option and really adds some value to the game! It's an action game... with a twist. A street fighting contest, featuring Slash and six other bosses, makes up the 2-player game. This option could almost be a game on its own!

SLASH

The hero of the game has three different attacks with X-Kaliber and can defend himself extremely well!

TATTOO

This Blanka-type beast is slow of foot but comes a powerful long sword. He has a long-range attack, too!

CHAINSAW

He only fires his gun until his rival beats the skin off of him, then he can really do some major damage.

KANE

Attacks with his cane and the top hat are Kane's favorite moves. He's quite quick, considering his girth.

DR. BLAST

The mad doctor is kind of wimpy until he takes damage and mutates into a flying, stinging, giant insect.

SPUKE

With his tremendous jumping abilities, Spuke can somersault right at his opponent and cause major pain.

RAPTOR

Raptor isn't quite as powerful as Slash and X-Kaliber, but he may be a bit quicker than his twin brother.

MIRROR FIGHT

The 2-player game option also allows each competitor to choose the same fighter. Of course, each fighter wears a different color so you can tell them apart. Who will be the champion?
STAGE 1

The first section of Stage 1 is short and extremely easy, but the second section is more difficult. There you’ll happen across groups of gun turrets in the hallways. Slash them quickly! Green toxic waste drips from the ceilings in some places. These are two things that you should definitely try to avoid!

Break open any and all Energy Storage Devices like this one. Valuable items are always within.

STAGE 2

The first section of Stage 2 is almost laughably easy. The challenge factor is really lacking here. The second section, while more interesting because of the staircases, is almost as easy. There are quite a few Energy Storage Devices along the way up the stairs, but it’s only necessary to go after them if you need to recover lost energy. You should be able to make it to the top of the building in seconds. Just take turns slashing on the mini bosses located at the top of the building. They’re easy, too!
ACID DROOL
Jump over and attack the Morph that you meet in the hallway when it charges at you. The battle should end quickly.

The Morph hurls up some green goo and spews it right at you. Put up a block.

Several long red pits with X-Kaliber should touch this unblock some manner.

FIRE WALK
Do not allow this fire to touch you. Two touches and you can consider yourself a goner. Move quickly to the right to avoid a painful burning sensation.

The fire is spreading. Jump out of the way quickly. Slash!

PREVENT CLEAR-CUTTING
After hitting Chainsaw a few times, you’ll discover that he’s named appropriately. Don’t jump. Back him up and constantly slash away.

Shoot the gun shots and meet Chainsaw when it’s clear to do so. He’ll soon lose his skin.

Nail him when he jumps up and over to you.

Above all, do not let your guard down!

GET A TATTOO
Back Tattoo up into a corner and let him have it with your strongest attack move. But do it only at close range or he’ll jump over it and attack you.

Several well-placed inter-dimensional Energy Bombs should fry the tattoo off of Tattoo.
BARKLEY SHUT UP AND JAM!

STAGE 3

Sadly to say, the difficulty level of Stage 3 isn't much more of a challenge than Stages 1 or 2. Adjust the difficulty level of the game up on the Option screen for a greater challenge. Nonetheless, the mines that are placed on the street could pose a serious health hazard.

SCISSOR HANDS

Like a spinning top, this mini boss whirs around and tries to slice slash into fine pieces. Frappé, I presume, is the setting. Crouch down and swing X-Kaliber steadily to counteract the shots that come from the blue boss. Keep swinging for a hit!

SLASH AWAY

This mini boss drops down on either side of the elevator. Pick a side, crouch down and slash. Guessing wrong could be fatal.

At last, the difficulty level and intensity level of the game begins to pick up! The series of elevator platforms and flying enemies can provide quite a test. It can be frustrating as well because if you jump, get bumped and fall, you could end up basically starting your upward climb over again. Be sure to use the overhead slash move on flying enemies.
Legendary bounty hunter Samus Aran is back for her third encounter with the mysterious Metroids in the biggest Super NES adventure yet! The space pirates of Zebes have rebuilt their fortress and it’s up to Samus to bring the house down.
Super Metroid brings Samus Aran back to Planet Zebes, where the NES Metroid mission took place. But this planet is a world apart from the original setting. The graphics are detailed and diverse, and, while some of the opening areas will look familiar, this game covers a lot more ground. There are six huge areas along with a ton of new enemies and special items.
SUPER POWERS

NEW MOVES

SPEED BOOSTER

With the Speed Booster, Samus can sprint across flat areas with blurring speed, vaporizing enemies and obstacles along the way.

X-RAY SCOPE

Many Zebesian tunnels cannot be seen by the naked eye. This device reveals hidden passages.

GRAPPLING BEAM

This device fires an electric current which can grab on to special blocks, allowing Samus to swing either upward or downward and climb to new heights.

SPEED BOOSTER BLAST

When Samus hits full stride with the Speed Booster, she can knock down then rack up downward.

TOUCH & GO

When Samus jumps up to some flat surfaces, she can hang on for a fleeting moment and change her direction and jump again.

SPRING BALL

When Samus rolls into the Morphing Ball shape, she can use the Spring Ball to jump up and into high, narrow passageways.

SPACE JUMP

The Space Jump item allows Samus to fly by jumping, then jumping again and again in mid-air.
Planet Zebes has six huge sections, each with a different style and population of evil beings. The following pages include early maps of the areas to give you an idea of how big the planet will be. In the final version of the game, the maps may be slightly different from what you see here. As you explore, you'll continue to find hidden passages and new areas.

This lovely world of Norfair includes many open areas.

Norfair Zebesians fire lasers from their eyes.
Super Missiles are hidden in the catacombs of Brinstar.

Brinstar is rich with foliage and deadly insects. Some of the plants are deadly, too.

The water world of Maridia is full of sea creatures.

The wrecked ship is an ancient rocket run aground.

Watch for more bug blasting action in next issue's Super Metroid review!
You may be familiar with the Time Trax television series. Now you can take a look at the game, courtesy of Malibu Games. This is possibly the finest game that Malibu Games has released. Overall, it's a well-executed action game with great play control.

Time Trax consists of eight levels. All are side-scrolling. With the exception of Level 4 and Level 6 where you ride a motorcycle and a jet ski, respectively, it's all platform action. One aspect that we're happy to point out is that Time Trax is not an easy game. Yes, it's a fairly intuitive game and is easy to control, but the difficulty level, even when set on Easy, is elevated when compared to other platform action games. Even though the stages are not extremely long, there are enough distractions along the way to hold your interest.
The current year is 2193. Darien Lambert, the main character in Time Trax, is sent back to 1993 to apprehend crooks working for Dr. Mordicai Sahmbi, a brilliant scientist turned criminal. Using his martial arts skills, PPT weapon and a mind-control technique called Time Stalling, Lambert must transport the criminals back to the present—and to justice. If his mission fails, the present, as he knows it, will cease to exist.

He was born on August 11, 2160. Unclaimed by his birth parents, he was raised in Enclave 1-6, Middle City, known before as Chicagoland.

Uncover and collect the letters that spell SELMA to increase Lambert's energy. Sometimes they are out in the open—sometimes they are hidden. Having the maximum amount of energy in reserve will be crucial, especially in the last levels of Time Trax.

Unfortunately, Lambert will run into several different types of enemies throughout each of the eight levels in the game. Try to defeat all of them with hand-to-hand combat. You'll be rewarded with a Gold Token if you defeat them in this manner. Defeating enemies with your PPT weapon is a nice alternative, but that method doesn't always work.

Thugs wearing denim jackets should be dealt with at close range. Couch down and kick them when you draw near. A couple of boots should be enough.

Security Guards can't be taken out with your PPT weapon. What you should do is stun them with the PPT and then move in for the hand-to-hand combat.

The Lab Techs carryLasers. You may have to duck to avoid taking shots from these whirring packeted devices. You can take them out with a few PPT shots.

These demolition devices should be snatched first with the PPT and then reactivated by Lambert. Just watch out for the bombs that they place! KA-BOOM!

Wait for a break in the action before running these freebies with your PPT. Move in and put an end to their destructive ways after they're finished.
LOCATION 1: SECRET PASSAGE

This stage consists of an upper and lower level. The path to the exit isn't difficult to determine, but there are a few tricky spots. Watch for cracks in the floor and ceiling. Lambert can jump through these areas to find secret caches of Power-Ups and other items. The spiders in the foreground webs will jump at you when you run past. Just stomp on them.

COLLECTIBLE ITEMS

- Gold Token
- Food
- Mega Crush
- 1-Up
- "Extra" Letters
- Combat Power-Up
- Heart
- "Selma" Letters
- PPT Power-Up

LOCATION 2: THE LABORATORY

Lambert's second attempt at locating the evil Mo Sahmbi leads him to the doctor's laboratory. Numerous armed and dangerous lab technicians will harass you along the way, as will many deadly security lasers. Time Stalling will be a big asset during this stage because some of the lasers fire very quickly.

Blast the security lasers before they have a chance to blast you. Get them from the side.

When you jump through this opening, prepare to duck because a security laser will be aimed right at your head. Use Time Stalling to gain an advantage.
There is a secret passage in this brick section of the wall. Going through it allows Lambert to score a 1-Up. Hard-to-locate areas like this exist in most levels of the game.

There is a Mega Crush item hidden behind the large vertical glider on the left in this area. Jump up to get it. Next, grab on to the invisible ladder to grab the Heart that appears.

To get rid of the more steadfast laser turrets, you will be better off using this Power-Up for your weapon. If not effective, increase the dosage!

This laser turret shoots really fast, so Time Stalling it and blast it to bits! Be sure to pick up the pass-key that sits directly under the turret.

Time-travel is possible with TXP. There is a TXP capsule located right at the feet of this Lab Tech. Take care of business and grab the capsule.

Jump and swing from the laser's tracks while shooting or kicking the big gun and avoiding the laser blasts.
LOCATION 3: THE SMITHSONIAN

The Smithsonian Institute, one of America's most historically significant structures, is being invaded by bombers. They're planting explosive devices all over one of the buildings. Lambert must make his way through the hallways of the Institute and reach the end. As you approach the bombers; use caution because they will usually be laying bombs when you approach. Once an explosive device is set, there's no way to diffuse it—just stay away until it explodes, then move in.

LOCATION 4: CITY STREETS

Lambert takes to the streets of Washington, D.C. riding a super-charged cycle. Armed with an automatic weapon and his fast reflexes, Lambert tangles with a chopper on a high speed run! The danger not only comes from above, but from the front, too. Robotic laser turrets are dropped out in front of Lambert's cycle. Aim your gun toward the front to take these nuisances out. When they explode, pop a wheelie to avoid taking any damage. A wheelie is also the way to access the Power-Up icons for your gun as they float by.

SHOOT THE GUNNER

As you pet the chopper with gun blasts, concentrate your fire on the machine gunner that is leaning out the side door. Your job will be a lot easier if you don't have to deal with his laser shots.
SPINED CART
With statues and enemies in your way, it’s difficult to avoid this spiked cart as it chases you down the hallway. Don’t stand around for too long!

THE DISAPPEARING CONTAINER TRICK
To retrieve the prized contents of this silver container, you first have to make it appear. Move the statue over to the right and then jump up to the left of the container to make it appear. Use the dinosaur skeleton’s neck to jump up to the container. You have to move very quickly!

LOCATION 5: BUILDING SITE
A skyscraper under construction is the site of a meeting between Lambert and one of Dr. Mo Sahmbi’s top agents of destruction. It is in this location that the difficulty really increases. There are many jumps that require precise footing. The enemies are stronger, too! The goons with the flame throwers are extra tough. Stand back and shoot them with your PPT to stun them before moving in for hand-to-hand combat. Rescue the hostages while you’re at it.

CINDER MADNESS
To get these items, Lambert must first take out a flame thrower and then stand on the very edge of the lower girder and make the jump to the higher one.

CRANE OPERATOR
Jump over the giant hook and then kneel down and shoot at the controller. It may appear that you aren’t doing any damage at first, but just keep shooting—you’ll break through sooner or later!

TRAVEL AHEAD
There is more action ahead in Time Trax! The hardest stages await Lambert. Will he have his hands full?

JET SKI
Similar to Location 4, Lambert takes to the water on a Jet Ski and goes up against a speedboating domination.

FOREST
Deadly traps and pitfalls will test Lambert as he makes his way through the jungle-like forest.

WATERFALL
Jumping from ledge to ledge and dealing with a myriad of enemies is in the cards for Lambert.
Turn and Burn: No-Fly Zone, by Absolute, offers players a life-like combat simulator that's a cut above the competition. Every element of the graphics has been painstakingly detailed and researched. Digitized images of the enemy Mig-29s and missiles create a smooth, realistic flight experience. When you engage enemies, the HUD accurately tracks them and locks-on when they are within your missile range. The view out of the cockpit is fast moving, allowing you to rotate your F-14 Tomcat quickly in any direction during a dogfight. The control is accurate and easy to handle with a little practice. The quick response to your commands adds to the entire effect, giving you a realistic flying experience. Early in the game, the missions seem almost too easy because of the superior play control, but with 19 different missions, the combat gets tough soon enough!

PUSH THE ENVELOPE

You'll need to lock in the afterburners in order to take off at the silent carrier flight deck.

Each mission is unique, so be sure to read your mission orders before you hit the flight deck.

Get a good look at the carrier once you are airborne—it may be a while before you get back!
The No-Fly Zone is considered a combat situation. Pilots understand that it is a free-fire zone, where all unidentified aircraft are to be considered hostile. All of your enemies are flying Soviet built Mig-29s and are well versed in aerial combat. With nearly 20 different missions and two different difficulty levels, armchair pilots will be racking up the flight hours in no time at all. Write down passwords in case you have to bail out!

THE ENEMY NEVER SLEEPS

In the high-tech world of computers and radar screens, war is not just a daytime activity. In order to win this war, you will need to successfully pilot your aircraft through many kinds of conditions, at any hour of the day. While you might be able to spot enemy aircraft on a clear sunny day, you will need to rely on your radar screen to help you see them at night. Trust your missiles when you can't get the enemy lined up in your gun sights.

WATCH YOUR TAIL

When you're flying against multiple enemy fighters, it's very important to keep an eye on your tail. It is very easy for a pilot to become distracted by one enemy, only to be hit from behind by another. To prevent this from happening to you, watch your radar screen carefully. You can also keep an eye on your enemy when he flies past by pressing the L or R Buttons. This will give you a quick view out the back of the cockpit.
FLIGHT TRAINING

Before a pilot ever even sees the flight deck, he goes through many hours of training. Unfortunately, you won’t have the opportunity to train and will fly directly into battle. To improve your chances in the air, check out these flying tips before you take off. All the basics of military combat are covered, but you’ll still need to practice to perfect them. These are multimillion dollar weapons you’re flying, so be careful!

OFFENSE

WEAPON SELECTION

Taking off on a sortie, your F-14 is armed with a 20mm cannon and a variety of missiles. Use the X Button to switch between your weapons systems, making sure to use the most appropriate weapon for the job.

Radar Love

The F-14 Tomcat benefits from the use of several different kinds of radar. You can access the AWACS long range radar by pressing the Select Button while in flight. The AWG-9 short range radar will track the enemy when you close in for the attack.

LOCK 'N ROLL

When an enemy flies by you, perform an Immelmann Roll by pulling back on the stick and turning a half-roll. You’ll be facing the opposite direction, with the enemy in your sights. This classic move works great!

DEFENSE

CHAFF & FLARE

Use chaff and flares to divert missiles that are on your tail. If you spot a missile, press L or R to look over your shoulder, then hit the A Button when the missile gets close.

TIME TO RUN

If an enemy missile is on your tail and you are out of chaff, running is your only option. Hold the B Button and press Up on the Controller to kick in the afterburners. When the danger has passed, slow down or you will run out of fuel.

SUB WARFARE

Beginning with Mission 6, the enemy’s attacks get stronger. You'll need to defend against the hostile fire in order to stay airborne!

STARTING MISSION 5...

Watch behind you for the incoming missile, then drop the flares when it closes in.

When the missile closes in on you, hit the afterburners and it will fly right past you.

SUB WARFARE

Beginning with Mission 6, the enemies will start deploying submarines equipped with antiaircraft missiles. While you can’t destroy these powerful weapons, you can avoid their attacks by watching your AWACS radar and staying away from them.

STAY AWAY FROM THE ENEMY SUBMARINES. THEY WILL FIRE ON YOU IF YOU FLY TOO CLOSE!
After you learn how to down the enemy Mig-29s, you will need to destroy other targets as well. Each of these missions will give you an idea how to handle the different targets. As the war progresses the ground targets will begin to fire back at you. You may even be destroyed if you’re not careful!

MISSION 4

In Mission 4 is the first time you’re instructed to attack a ground unit. Select the object on the AWACS radar, then fly over it. When you engage the objective, aim at the enemy gunposts.

MISSION 5

The enemy radar plane is the first non-combat aircraft you will encounter. Aim for the engines when you are attacking it. When both engines are on fire, the plane will fall out of sight.

MISSION 12

Attacking a ship is very similar to attacking an island. Aim for the enemy gunposts when you start your strafing run. Your mission will be complete when they are all destroyed.

MID-AIR REFUELING

Engaging the enemy Mig will quickly drain your fuel, especially if you use your afterburners. Luckily, the carrier is equipped with an A-6 Fuel Tanker. It will automatically be deployed when you run low on fuel, but you can only refuel once during a mission. Be sure to lower your speed before trying to hook up.

LANDING

Landing on the carrier is fairly easy once you have learned how to do it. Lower your speed as you approach the carrier, then center the runway on your screen. Don’t try to nose your aircraft down or you’ll crash into the flight deck.

If you stay centered on the carrier and cut your speed you should land without any problems.

If you approach wrong, scrap the landing by pulling up and increasing your speed.

If you run low on fuel, the A-6 Fuel Tanker will be launched.

Select the tanker on the radar map, then catch up with it.

Center the tanker in your crosshairs, then slowly hook up for fuel.
Super Pinball by American Tecnos gives pinball fans three different games to choose from. All of the games are played in a unique perspective view that allows you to see the entire play field at once.

Pinball Dreams, by Gametek gives players four different games to choose from. The games are played from a top viewpoint, so the screen scrolls to keep the ball in view. Players can select from several different options, including a controller setup feature.

MULTIPLE CHALLENGES

Up to eight players can test their skills at the same time, or a single player can test his mettle against all three machines in the Conquest Mode. All three games have similar scoring setups, but different difficulty ratings. Choose the game that best fits your skill!

COMPETITION HOW MANY PLAYERS? 1 PLAYER CONQUEST NOBODY CAN BEAT ME EXIT

Space travel is the theme behind the Ignition game, and like the title implies, the ball moves like a rocket. Hitting the drop targets in the upper corners lights up the letters. When you spell IGNITION the high scores really take off.
Jolly Joker is the easiest of the three games. It only takes 60 million points to beat it in the Challenge Game, so aim for the Mystery Ramp to increase your score quickly.

Blackbeard and Ironmen is a medium challenge for pinball fans. It will take 120 million points to win the Challenge Game, so try to spell GOLD and shoot for the bonus!

Wizard is a very challenging game: not for the faint of heart! The play field is fairly wide open, so if you hit the ball too hard, it may come back before you can catch it.

The game Steel Wheel plays along a Old West theme and has the music to back it up. Hit the ball into the side slots on either edge to raise your score and gain extra balls. You can raise the bonus by hitting all the arrows at the top, as well.

Beat Box has a great musical soundtrack that changes every time you hit the ball. The music is almost more fun than the scoring in this game. Be careful, the playing field is very short, so the ball may get moving too fast for you to react!

Playing Nightmare is just like the name implies, scary! Sharp angles and a wide open playing field can send the ball flying anywhere on the screen, making it the most difficult of the four games to score well on. Good luck, you’ll need it!

Bonus Marios

When you first begin playing Super Mario Bros. 3, grab both of the hidden Warp Whistles in World 1 and use them to warp to World 8. When you begin playing, press the Start Button to bring up the Save Screen, then select the Save & Quit option. Restart your game, highlight the saved game, then push the B Button to go back to World 1. Work your way to World 1-2 with the Tail Power-Up. Bonus Games

One of the best ways to rack up your score in Kirby's Pinball Land is by finding the Bonus Rounds. Because they are so hard to find, many players don't score well when they do find them. To become familiar with the Bonus Games, use this code to access all of them from the beginning of the game. On the Title Screen, press Left, B and the Select Button at the same time. When the screen changes to the High Score Screen, a white cat will walk across the bottom. Return to the Title Screen and begin playing a new game. When you select a stage to play, you will automatically go to the Bonus Game.

NOTE: You can't get a high score with this trick, because you can't lose your ball.

On the Title Screen, press Left, B, and Select at the same time.

Lufia won't enter the room in the Old Cave labeled "Women Only" unless Aguro is a member of your party. To enlist him, return to Lorbenia and go to the upper floor of the center building. After you have your pockets picked there, go to the Inn and ask the Innkeeper about the thief. When you leave the Inn, Aguro will automatically join you and you'll be able to enter the "Women Only" room and get the Fairy's Kiss.

The man in the Medan Mines won't let you into the Treasure Room to get the Hope Ruby until you've gathered a few clues. First, go to Jenoba and buy a drink from the cider seller. He'll give you a clue about the towers. Next, buy some cider for the woman next to him to get another clue. Leave Jenoba and travel to the Gem Shop in Ruan. When you talk to the woman there, she'll tell you about rubies and sapphires. Now, when you return to the mines, the man will let you enter the Treasure Room to pick up the Hope Ruby.
HOW DO I GET THE MIDGE MALLET?

After you defeat the Jabberwocky in the Water Palace, Jema will tell you to take the Cannon Travel Service to the Upperland. Before you depart, return to the Dwarf Village and talk to the elder there. He will give you the Midge Mallet, which he used to use in his show. If you or your party members are "pygmized" by an enemy in battle, you can select the Mallet and use it to regain your regular sizes.

HOW DO I GET THE SALAMANDO MAGIC?

The people in the desert town of Kakkara will tell you about a city in the Ice Country that is as warm as a tropical town. Take the Cannon Travel Service to the Ice Country and walk up from your landing site to the Stove in the center of town. Stand in front of the Stove and press the B Button to release Salamando and learn his fiery magic spells. The girl will learn how to use the Flame Saber, Fire Bouquet and Blaze Wall spells; the Sprite will learn how to cast the Fireball, Exploder and Lava Wave spells.

WHERE CAN I FIND THE SEA HARE’S TAIL?

After you receive the Flammie Drum, return to Kakkara and summon Flammie. Fly south-west from the desert until you see a small, circular island. Land on it and enter the largest hut there. You’ll be able to get the Sea Hare’s Tail from the merchant inside. Give it to a man in Kakkara to get the Moogle Belt.
From the beginning, swim all the way to the right and go through the door there. Climb the ladders to another door. Enter and go to the left past the door on the ledge, which leads to a Save Point and go through the door next to the wall. Jump up the ledges to the door above and go through it. Now go right and hit the second Face Block to get the Key. Carry it back to the left and break the cracked block on the ledge.

While holding the Key, stand where the block was and press Up on the Control Pad to go through an invisible door. Go to the right and break through the blocks to reach the Treasure Chest, which holds the Harp.

The first Face Block holds a Jet Hat. Go to the right and hit the second one to get the Key.

Go back to the left and break the cracked block. Stand where the block was and press Up.

After stepping through the invisible door, go to the right, through the blocks, to get the Harp.

How can I recover a treasure that I've lost?

In Wario Land, you'll have one of your Treasures taken away whenever you get the big "Game Over." To recover the Treasures, you'll have to return to the place where you originally found them to retrieve them again. Follow the same steps as before to find the Treasure Chests, and keep track of where you find each Treasure so you'll know exactly where to go to find it a second (third, fourth...) time.

Whenever your character expires, you'll lose one of the precious Treasures from your collection.

When you return to the chests where you first found the Treasures, they'll be back inside.

How do I reach the Treasure Chest in Level 11?

Work your way down the ledges, breaking the cracked blocks as you go. When you uncover a door, enter and swim to another door to the right. Go down the ladder and to the right. Don't enter the door there; instead, hit the Face Block to get the Jet Hat. Jump and fly up to the ledge on the left. Fly back and forth, from ledge to ledge, until you reach the top. Hit the Face Block on the left to get the Key that opens the Treasure Room on the right.

After climbing down the ladder, walk over to the right. Punch the Face Block to get the Jet Hat.

Fly from ledge to ledge to the top of the room. Take the Key from the Face Block to open the door.
While players begin as humans, they can change their forms by either eating the Meat or installing the Parts left by defeated enemies. One piece of Meat turns humans into Beasts; two pieces turns them into Monsters. Installing one Part turns humans into Cyborgs; installing two makes them Robots. To revert to their human forms, Monsters must install two Parts and Robots must eat two pieces of Meat. Another way to change back into a human is to use the Flushex, which you’ll acquire in the town of Lec in the Past. After you install the Flushex, walk to the right from the Warp tile and continue through the wall to a small pod. Step into the pod to change your character into a human. To switch characters, use the Select Button.

Humans can become Cyborgs by installing one Part. Installing two Parts turns them into Robots.

Eating one piece of meat turns humans into Beasts; eating two pieces makes them Monsters.

How do I defeat Sol?

On the fourth floor of Xagor’s Castle, you’ll meet Sol, the Master. He’ll tell you that he has imprisoned Xagor’s evil spirit in his own body. To destroy the spirit, you must destroy Sol. Attack him using only your weapons. At the end of three rounds, Sol will tell you that you must defeat him before the spirit awakens. Continue to attack using only weapons. After four more rounds, you will defeat the Master and release Xagor’s evil spirit.

Sol, the Master, has imprisoned the evil spirit of Xagor inside himself. You must attack him to free the spirit. Mount your offensive using only weapons.

After seven rounds, the evil spirit will break free of Sol’s body. The final battle sequence in the game pits you against the formidable Xagor.

Enter the cave on the south side of the island, and ride to the beach on the right side of the cave, then take the stairs. Follow the path to the river, walk all the way down, then right to the narrow spot in the river. Build a bridge above you and cross the river. Walk all the way to the left, all the way up, all the way to the right, then down to the narrow spot in the river. Make a bridge to your right and cross the river. Go all the way up, then left to the third path going up. Follow the path to the end and take the stairs. Walk all the way to the left, all the way down, all the way to the left, then follow the path to the stairs. Go left to the river, all the way down, then build a bridge to your left. Cross the river, walk up and open the chest to get the necklace.

4 Find the Zombie Town. After getting the Iron Necklace, go back and take the stairs. Go all the way to the left, all the way down, all the way to the right, then up to the first path going right. Walk all the way to the right, all the way up, then head right to the first path leading down. Work your way down across the moving platform, all the way to the left, and all the way down. Go left and take the stairs to enter the town.

5 Get the Broken Statue. Work your way to the top of the Zombie Town and enter the castle. Walk up to the four-way intersection, go all the way to the right, then continue up to the Vampire’s room. Defeat the Vampire then take the stairs. Walk up and take the first path going left. Go all the way to the left, all the way down, all the way to the right, then go up and take the stairs. Continue up and attack the woman in the first room (it’s Sabera in disguise). Don’t continue up or you will be trapped! Defeat Sabera to receive the statue.

6 Get the Eye Glasses. Return to the Zombie Town and talk to Clark in the basement of the lower left building.

7 Get the Glowing Lamp. Return to the Town of Joel and purchase the Alarm Flute from the store. Enter the woodshed next to the upper left building and use the Eye Glasses to find the secret passage. Take the passage, then enter the Lighthouse. Walk up to Kensu and use the Alarm Flute to awaken him. Open the chest he leaves behind to find the Lamp.

8 Calm the Angry Sea. Use the Glowing Lamp to repair the Broken Statue. Take the Gold Statue to the far western island and place it on the Sea Altar. You can now travel to the northern part of the ocean.

9 Get the Barrier Spell and find Swan. Ride the dolphin to the upper left corner of the ocean area and go up between two large rocks. On your way through, Asina will give you the spell. Continue up and land at the upper right beach. Walk up to enter the town of Swan, the beginning of Area 6: A Port Town.

Defeat the Vampire. You must be at least to Level 10 to hurt him. Use the Sword of Wind at any power while dodging the bats and hit him 7-12 times. Once he’s defeated, open the chest to get a Fruit of Power.

Defeat Sabera the Witch. You must be at least to Level 11 to hurt her. Use the Sword of Fire at any power while dodging her fireballs and hit her 3-9 times. Once she’s defeated, open the chest to get the Broken Statue.

Our Hero’s adventure continues into stranger lands, full of even more powerful enemies. Check out next month’s Counselors’ Corner Extra for a complete walk-through of Areas 6 through 10. All answers will be revealed!

NINTENDO POWER PLAYER'S CHALLENGE

P.O. Box 97333
Redmond, WA 98073-9733

VOLUME 59 79
In the ten years since it was founded, California-based Interplay Productions, Inc. has developed a reputation for producing top quality, original PC and video games, such as The Lost Vikings, Clay Fighter, Rock 'n' Roll Racing and Out of This World. How does it consistently hit on winning formulas? And just what makes its games so good? Nintendo Power recently visited Interplay's Irvine offices to find out more about the company.

"Games for Gamers, By Gamers"

Interplay well. When the privately-held company celebrated its tenth anniversary last year, 140 people reported to work at the Irvine office, and new divisions have opened in Palo Alto and the U K.

Fargo was a major game player growing up. He shelled out mass quarters on arcade titles such as Space Wars, Asteroids and Missile Command, and he owned all of the first-generation systems. It wasn't until he got an Apple II computer that he realized that he could actually make a career of making games. He became one of the first in the industry to take a "studio" approach to producing games, bringing together programmers, artists, musicians and directors as teams to create games. Interplay's first title was Mindshadow, a graphic adventure for Activision. In its early years, Interplay produced PC titles, including classics such as The Bard's Tale and Battle Chess, but in 1990 it developed its first game for the NES, Swords & Serps, which was published by Acclaim. It both developed and published RPM Racing late in 1991 and developed one more game, Star Trek, for Konami, before concentrating on making its own original titles for the Super NES. Today, about half of Interplay's business is cartridge-system based.

Although it started as a developer and still does much of its game development internally, Interplay has made the unusual transition from developer to publisher and now hires developers from outside the company to work on some projects. Game producer Alan Pavlish (who has the unofficial title, "Big Time Producer—No More Mr. Nice Guy") has seen development...
PRODUCING GAMES THESE DAYS IS LIKE MAKING LITTLE MOVIES.......

Teams grow in size as technology has evolved and the games themselves have become more complex. He says that producing games these days is almost like making little movies. They need art directors, script writers and music directors to produce the soundtracks. (For more on Interplay's A.R.D.I. Sound System and its innovative use of music and sound, see the Sound Success article in January's Super Power Club special section.)

From the beginning, Interplay has worked hard to earn its reputation for making good games. Fargo and Pavlish both emphasized how important game quality is. Fargo said he started out with the thought, "If we make good games, we'll do well." And Pavlish stated his goal, as game producer, simply: "Make great games." What that translates to, for Interplay, is that the games don't go to the store shelves until they're ready. That sometimes means missing the best sales season in order to finish the game right instead of rushing to get their products out for, say, the holiday buying season, as some companies might. Rock 'N' Roll Racing is a good example of Interplay's attention to detail. When we first saw the game at the 1993 winter CES, it looked like it was essentially a finished game. Interplay wasn't satisfied with the play control, though, and spent about six more months fine-tuning the game—which is longer than some companies spend making a game from start to finish. The tweaking paid off for Interplay: Rock 'N' Roll Racing ended up with great play control and is one of its best sellers.

So where do the ideas for great games like Rock 'N' Roll Racing come from? Interplay's producers draw their ideas from all sorts of sources: books they've read, stories they've heard, television shows they've seen. They also look at other games that are out there. For example, if you hadn't noticed that street fighting games are hot, you must have been locked in a dark closet somewhere for the last year with earplugs firmly in place. Seeing the demand, Interplay decided to produce one of its own—but one with an Interplay twist. Thus was born Clay Fighter, a fighting game with an attitude and a sense of humor all its own. Who needs blood and guts when you have clayman figures who can attack with killer hair-dos and bouncing bellies? Thousands of gamers who agree have made Clay Fighter Interplay's biggest selling game to date.

INTERPLAY ON THE CUTTING EDGE

Interplay is continuing to push the limits of existing hardware with its innovative games and is looking to the future with a hot lineup for '94 and beyond. While the buzzword in the industry is technology, Fargo thinks that accessibility is the real story of the near future. He's excited about fiber optics and the technology behind Nintendo's Gateway. In the future, he sees it being very easy for the whole world to turn on the TV, tune to channel four and play a video game—from Interplay, of course.
development team really went clay crazy in this one. Everything, including backgrounds, characters, titles and credits, is made of clay. Also new in this title are the three tournament play modes: Double Elimination, Single Elimination and Sudden Death. There is also a training mode that lets players practice particular moves and an option that lets players alter the color palette. When they first started out with the claymation process, Airey says they photographed the clay objects using a standard 35 mm camera. They've improved on the process by filming the objects using a Hi-8 video camera connected to a Macintosh computer.

In addition to Clay Fighter Tournament Edition, Blackthorne, a sci-fi action/adventure, is coming soon. It's similar in look and feel to Out of This World, but an advanced rotoscoping method was used to produce even smoother and more realistic animation. The game features an all-new character, Kyle Blackthorne, in a quest to recover the fragmented energy source known as the Lifestone. The animation and sound are amazing, and the game play incorporates Interplay's trademark problem-solving with action and adventure. Interplay is planning to develop the character of Kyle Blackthorne in other media, as well, so you'll be hearing much more about this newcomer in the months to come.

Based on the classic J.R.R. Tolkien novel, The Lord of the Rings is a huge adventure that brings all of the characters from the fantasy to life in rotoscoped animation. Although the technology used to create the different characters varies. Producer Matt Findley ("The Commissioner") strongly armed whatever co-workers were handy, making them put on costumes so he could film in real time the actual movements that the characters make in the game. Using a Sony Hi-8 video camera and a production quality VCR connected to a Macintosh computer, he was able to grab 30 frames of movement per second. The project's artists went to work next, rendering the characters frame by frame using the Deluxe Paint Animation program. They copied the filmed motion and light movement exactly, adding the final colors and patterns for each character. Although we can show you screen shots of what the characters look like, still photos really don't do the game justice. The smooth, life-like animation in the game just doesn’t show up in still shots, so you'll have to see the real thing in action before judging this one. They were putting the finishing touches on the game's sound track when we visited, and the samples we heard showed lots of richly orchestrated variety. The game is Super NES Mouse compatible, and your party can range in size from one to seven members. With the Multi-tap, up to five can play simultaneously. It's a completely non-linear game, and Findley estimates that it will take about 70 hours of play time to complete it.

BUT WAIT—THERE'S MORE

Farther out on the horizon are Star Trek: Starfleet Academy and The Lost Vikings II. Erik the Swift, Baleog, the Fierce and Olaf the Stout will all be back for a second puzzling adventure, and this time they're so lost, they can't even find themselves. What will they find, though, are some new characters along the way who have special abilities that will help them out of sticky situations. This sequel will be a three-player game and will be accompanied by a new, original soundtrack.

Space travelers of a different sort, the crew from Star Trek will be appearing in Star Trek: Starfleet Academy, the Starship Bridge Simulator later this year. Unlike the Star Trek adventure titles out there, this one is a flight sim that puts you on the bridge of one of three different starships for one of an expected 24 scenarios. The eight-meg game uses high-speed, 3-D polygon graphics and features William Shatner's digitized voice. Game producer Jeremy Barnes ("Morpheus Blackstaff") says that you'll have to mind your manners. Interaction outside the sim portion of the game includes talking to and working with crew members, and how you treat them can make a difference in the outcome of your flight.
PREHISTORIK HIGHLIGHTS

From deep within the heart of the ancient Rain Forests, to the modern, liquid crystal display of your Game Boy comes this vine-swinging, monster-whomping, cave-crumbling action-adventure game from those time-warping wonder wizards at Titus. As Prehistorik Man, the stone-age super hero of centuries past, you must Club your way through five fearful Stages in order to collect enough food for the Full feast. Everyone in the home village is relying on Prehistorik Man to come through with the goodies. This isn't any berry-picking, walk in the woods though, there are all sorts of hard-headed horrors just waiting to make a meal out of our hero himself! Luckily, the Forest's secrets aren't entirely unfriendly...

Prehistorik Man must battle brutal Brontosaurus, "plodding" Plesiosaur, death-defying Dragonflies as well as other bone-crushing beasts of the forest.

Enjoy extra excitement by finding the Hang Glider. Once you get the hang of gliding, you'll be able to explore hard-to-reach areas and collect many useful items.
Prehistorik Man begins with a quest for the Lighter in the monstrous and mountainous setting of Stage One. Not only does he have to fight off hordes of bothersome beasts, there are many elevators and precarious platforms to negotiate. Be sure your sandals are strapped on tight!

PREHISTORIK TOOLS

Prehistorik Man appears to be an average cave man type, but he is able to wield primitive weapons with great skill. In the beginning, he is equipped with a Club. In Stage Two, he discovers the Mallet. Stage Three is home to the Hang Glider, and in Stage Four, an Axe awaits.

ENTER THE COOL CAVES

In order for Prehistorik Man to explore the Caves, you must press Down on the Control Pad in front of the entrance. Once inside those creepy caverns, carefully search for caches of hidden Cakes, Canes, and other point-scoring items.

AN ARROW ON THE ENEMY

When Arrows appear, it's a sign that enemies are near, so get your weapon ready! You can either Club the beast for points, jump on its head once to get a high boost, or bounce repeatedly to rack up double or even triple the number of points.

TERRIBLE T-REX

Stay out from underneath this beast's feet! A safer place to stand is right under his tummy. The arrows will tell you which target to aim for. Jump and hit and follow the arrows. To finish him off, hit the top of his head.
Finding the Fork is the name of the game in the cold, dark caves of Stage Two. This Stage is a long one, but there are many helpful items to pick up, as well as a few tricks, warps and short cuts that will make your journey easier. Keep your eyes peeled for the Mallet—it will pack a wallop when you need it most.
The Bosses of Stage Two are a flock of "pterrible" Pterodactyls! Stand on the left side of the screen and hit the first on the head until an arrow appears on his neck. Jump up onto his neck and ride along until the second Boss comes. Watch the arrows and keep hitting, then repeat with the third Pterodactyl.
As he heads into the Forest Fringe, Prehistorik Man is about half way through his long and tiresome journey. Hidden in the Forest, however, are all sorts of exciting items to locate. The most unique discovery will be the Hang Glider. With he gets in some practice, there won't be any stopping a daring, young Prehistorik Man in his flying machine!

STAGE 3

THE FOREST FRINGE

WHICH WAY?

The choice is up to you—take the high road, which leads above ground, or the lower route through the dense forest underbrush.

BIRD JUMP

With a little practice, you'll be able to use this passing Parrot in two ways—catch a ride on his back or jump up and down to score the points.

SINKING PLATFORM

Watch those last couple of stones—one false step and you could be sent permanently into some unfriendly air space!

HANG TIME

Have we happened across a prehistoric paper plane? No, it's the Hang Glider and it's time to take off! Press B on the Control Pad to lift off, then press Up and Down to raise and lower the nose of the Glider. Head downward to pick up momentum, then back up to climb. You'll be an expert prehistoric pilot in no time!

ITEM FREE FALL

This looks like a trap, but it's not! Go ahead and take the plunge for a treasure trove of treats.
AN ANGRY APE

This hairy, obnoxious Ape will jump around and beat on his chest, but don’t let that scare you off. Use your Mallet and swing at his arms when the arrows appear. After a few good hits, his arms will stay tucked in, and an arrow will appear on top of his head. You know what that means—let him have it!

---

CONTINUE THE ADVENTURE

STAGE 4

Beyond the fringe lies the Rain Forest and Stage Four. Watch your step as you make your way from branch to branch! You’ll meet many familiar creatures here, as well as a few new ones like the Dragonfly.

STAGE 5

The last Stage takes place in the inner depths of the Hollow Tree. This is where you pick up the handy Throwing Axes, but when you meet the final Boss, you won’t “be-leaf” how tough he is to beat. Good luck!
Finding and collecting Diamonds is the key to completing most of the stages in The Jungle Book.

BY THE BOOK

The Jungle Book, the game, basically follows the story line of the movie. That really helps! There aren't many NES games coming out right now—this one definitely deserves a look. Since many players will be familiar with the characters, The Jungle Book delivers a more enjoyable play experience. Play control is good and Mowgli's movements are well animated and well-defined. The difficulty level, when set at the default "normal" setting, allows players of all ages to jump right in and start working their way through the stages. The Expert difficulty level ups the attack power of enemies. Some stages must be completed by collecting a certain quantity of Gems, but others also require you to battle a boss character in order to continue.

JUNGLE BOY MAKES GOOD!

During The Jungle Book, the movie, Mowgli is always saved by Bagheera the panther or Baloo the bear or some other jungle friend. That's not the case in Virgin Games' newest NES outing, The Jungle Book. Mowgli, a rather spry young waif, must rely on his own skills and a few odd weapons consisting mostly of bananas.

All ten stages are side-scrolling. The various enemies will keep you on your toes.

By defeating a certain enemy in each stage Mowgli will get a Shovel that will take him to a Bonus Round.
JUNGLE MOVES!

You can see how agile Mowgli is even before you begin playing. On the title screen, Mowgli runs in and pushes the text out of view. The motions are very realistic. You'll appreciate the work that went into making him move the way he does.

LITTLE SWINGER

Mowgli uses vines to get around in some areas. He'll grab on to them if you're holding the Control Pad in the right direction.

CATA-PROPULSION

Jumping on the "empty" end of a catapult will launch Mowgli skyward. There are bound to be some precious Gems in the upper regions.

SQUASH 'EM!

Even though Mowgli is hardly more than a featherweight, he's got enough heft to flatten wart hogs, monkeys, toads and other random baddies.

THE JUNGLE BOOK STORY

The Jungle Book, in its animated form, has been viewed and loved by millions of people. As you may already know, The Jungle Book story begins with Mowgli, orphaned shortly after birth in the jungle, being taken in, befriended and raised by a pack of wolves. Several years pass and the wolf pack votes that young Mowgli should be returned to the "man-village." Mowgli doesn't think this is such a good idea but is more or less duped into going with Bagheera, his loyal panther friend, to the man-village. As they journey, characters like Kaa, the sneaky snake, Baloo the friendly bear, an orangutan named King Louie, and the king of the jungle, Shere Khan, appear and play integral roles in the story. Ultimately, though, it's good ol' Baloo that explains the Bare Necessities to Mowgli and teaches him the meaning of what a true friend is. In the end, Mowgli does go to the man-village, but he will never forget who his real friends are. The stages in the game follow the major events of the story and the major characters remain true to form. It's a fun movie that also makes for a fun game! This is one game that accurately matches the age of the movie audience to the age of the game players.
The Great Tree is home to Kaa, the giant boa. A slithering character with a crazed look in his eyes, Kaa doesn't take kindly to visitors encroaching on his property. That is, if anyone can figure out a way to get to the top of the tree! If you know how the doors work, it's easy!

MONKEY DISCIPLINE
The primate on the branch just to the left of Kaa is a nuisance. Teach him a lesson in banana-tossing. Defeating him will earn you a Shovel!

LOOK OUT BELOW!
Mowgli must make this semi-blind jump in order to continue up the tree. Don't make a full jump—you're likely to land on a small snake. Ouch!

WAIT A SECOND
Cling to the vine until you make sure that the enemy on the branch rolls away, then climb on up.
THE JUNGLE BOOK

JUNGLE ICONS

DIAMOND
Diamonds are key to making it through the Levels. Get 'em!

GRAPES
Bunches of Grapes are essential for energy replacement.

BANANAS
Mowgli can throw two Bananas at once with this item.

MASK
If used, the power of the Mask makes Mowgli invincible.

CLOCK
Extra time will be added to the timer when you snag Clocks.

STONES
Yet again, more neat things to throw at what ills you

TRANSPORTER
Entering doorways transports Mowgli elsewhere and back.

BOOMERANG
Just another cool weapon that Mowgli has at his disposal.

SNAKE-BITTEN!
The snakes in the tree are liable to spit venom at Mowgli. Defeat the first to earn Grapes and the second to score a Clock.

NEED SOME RAID?
Pesky little groups of jungle mosquitoes can be obliterated with a few Bananas. Hang back and hurl, Mowgli!

DON'T WAIT! JUMP!
The end of the branch in the photo isn't very stable and will break off if Mowgli stands on it for too long. Get a running start and then jump out to grab the vine.

KAA THE SNAKE
Kaa awakens when you approach if you have collected all ten Gems in the Great Tree. You can use your Mask power to repel Kaa's hypnotizing shots while you attack.

Kaa moves to one of four locations when he attacks. Jump up and down on the branches accordingly for your attacks.

To conserve energy, push Select. Access the Mask item when one of Kaa's shots is about to hit you. Then turn it off.
By the time you get to Level 4, you should be more than familiar with all of the moves that Mowgli can do. Precise jumping skills are needed in order to make it to the end of The River to meet with Baloo. It will take some convincing to get the bear to help you.

GO WEST, YOUNG IMP
Don't let the "normal" side-scrolling routine of heading off to the right lead you into missing the Diamond that is located to Mowgli's left. Begin by riding the turtle shell over to the left and jumping to the ledge. The Diamond is high up in the far left tree.

DIRTY BIRD
This bird is quite a nuisance because it flies back and forth right in the path of your swing when you're on the vine.

CROCODILE ROCK
While riding on the croc's head, use the Mask item to make yourself invincible if you have it. If not, jump carefully!

BALOO
This chart shows you how the rocks sink when Baloo crashes down with each successive jump. Jump carefully while tossing whatever you've got.

▲ = SINKING ROCK(S)
HIGH JUMPING

Stand on the edge of the branch, press Up while holding down the B Button and then press the A Button to jump up, out, and over to the vine. Just watch out for the bird!

PIRANHA ATTACK!

You can tell where the Piranhas are going to appear because you'll see bubbles on the water's surface a second before they jump.
It's extremely easy to get lost in The Tree Village because the area is so similar looking in various locations and the Transporter doors take you to so many different places. It's a good thing we've provided you with a map! Follow it!

ANOTHER BIG JUMP

Mowgli won't be able to make the branch in this area with a big jump, but he'll be able to catch the vine that hangs from the branch and then climb up.

SQUIRREL TROUBLE

The Squirrel's odd pattern of movement may throw you off, so take a little time and peg him with a few well-placed Bananas.

TREE BOP

After you complete the tree maze and collect all ten Gems, make your way to the upper right corner of the area to take on the three monkeys. They try to hide behind a giant shield, but you just have to wait for them to attack you first to get a clear shot at them. Nail one at a time.
Mowgli only has to collect one Gem in order to finish Level 8? Sounds easy, huh? Nope. Mowgli must scamper up The Ruins by jumping onto about 100 brittle ledges. He won’t be able to stand on them because they will fall after about two seconds.

KING LOUIE

King Louie takes his primate helpers in hand and “bowls” them at Mowgli. Just jump over them and pelt the King with Bananas.

The fighting gets brutal this month. Mortal Kombat, which has topped the charts for the last four months, got knocked down by the old champion, Street Fighter II Turbo! Ken Griffey Jr. hits the Top 20 just in time for baseball season, checking in at the number twelve spot.

LOOK FOR THESE RELEASSEs SOON

KEN GRIFFEY JR. PRESENTS
MAJOR LEAGUE BASEBALL

Company: Nintendo
Suggested Retail Price: $49.95
Release Date: April 1994
Memory Size: 16 Megabits
Game Type: Baseball for one or two players

Ken Griffey Jr. helped develop the ultimate 16-bit video baseball game for Nintendo, and it's right on base. This month's Sports Scene covers Griffey MLB in an opening day of this baseball season special edition.

The graphics are so realistic once you're in the cockpit of this F-14 Tomcat that you'll wish you had a seat harness. From the carrier deck to dogfights in the clouds, fly alongside our test pilot in this month's Power review.

STAR TREK: THE NEXT GENERATION

Company: Spectrum HoloByte
Suggested Retail Price: Not Available
Release Date: April 1994
Memory Size: 16 Megabits
Game Type: Sci-fi adventure

You're in command of the starship Enterprise on its 16 meg journey to find new life and civilizations and to boldly blast aliens who blast at you first.

The game closely resembles the hit TV series in many ways. The story is involving. Away Team adventures are varied and fun. Good sound and graphics.

TURN & BURN: NO FLY ZONE

Company: Absolute
Suggested Retail Price: $64.95
Release Date: April 1994
Memory Size: 16 Megabits
Game Type: Combat flight sim for one player

The game does not include the MLBPA license, but it does have an editor so you can change player names. Some purists might not like the fact that season stats are kept only for one team.

The missions don't offer much tactical variety for the pilot.

The action battles occur too often, involve little strategy, and slow down the game.
TIME TRAX

Company: Activision
Suggested Retail Price: $59.95
Release Date: April 1994
Memory Size: 8 Megabits
Game Type: Action for one player

Darien Lambert comes back from the future to track time-traveling criminals in the 20th Century, and now you can join in the action. This eight-level action game is based on the Prime Time Network adventure. This month's review will keep you up-to-date.

+ Darien has cool moves like the Time Stall that slows down everything but himself. Good graphics and play control. Much more fun than the TV show.
+ The gold tokens collected for Mash-Ti combat don't seem to have any purpose.

ROCKO'S MODERN LIFE: SPUNKY'S DANGEROUS DAY

Company: Viacom
Suggested Retail Price: Not Available
Release Date: April 1994
Memory Size: 12 Megabits
Game Type: Cartoon puzzle/action for one player

Rocko the wallaby must lead his pal Spunky through a dangerous world, but Spunky is blind to the peril and keeps moving forward. It's up to Rocko to prepare the way by cleverly dispatching enemies, creating bridges and passages and in so doing saving Spunky from himself. Many of the stages almost seem like puzzles, but you have the added time element of Spunky moving steadily forward, forcing you to act.

+ This is a very clever idea with some challenging puzzles to clear. The graphics, based on the Nicktoons cartoon, look great. The password allows you to skip levels you've already completed.
+ Play control has too much drift, so you never feel as if you have good control over Rocko. Since many of the puzzle elements require precise control, this game can be overly challenging.

NINJA WARRIORS

Company: Taito
Suggested Retail Price: Not Available
Release Date: April 1994
Memory Size: 12 Megabits
Game Type: Scrolling fighter for one player

A rebel faction seeks to overthrow the tyrant leader of the nation, and you will be the instrument of his destruction. In Ninja Warriors, you choose to be one of three super android forms and wail on everything that moves in eight hard-fought levels of martial arts action.

+ Easy to play. Cool characters
+ Neither very challenging nor inventive.

X-KALIBER

Company: Activision
Suggested Retail Price: $59.99
Release Date: April 1994
Memory Size: 8 Megabits
Game Type: Action for one or two players

New York of the future is a violent place where warlords fight each other for control of the streets. As a special forces agent armed with an awesome sword, you must brave the dangers to save your partner. Nintendo Power takes you into the heat of the action.

+ Variety of play is impressive, especially with the two-player battle mode, which is like a street fighting game. Good play control.
+ In the scrolling game, the six stages are fairly similar. Game time for most players will be fairly short.

BILL WALSH COLLEGE FOOTBALL

Company: Electronic Arts
Suggested Retail Price: $59.95
Release Date: April 1994
Memory Size: 8 Megabits
Game Type: Football for up to five players

Legendary coach Bill Walsh of the Stanford Cardinal puts his face and wisdom on the line of scrimmage with this game. The engine that drives it is very similar to the one in Madden NFL '94, and so are the options, including the best college teams of recent decades. The 24 teams from the 1992 season may not have the school logos, but they do resemble those teams in the way they play.

+ Excellent play control. You can play using past national championship teams. The five-player, multi-tap option is great. Passwords save an 11-game season.
+ The play selection screen graphics are difficult to read. The on-field graphics aren't as sharp as Madden NFL '94. Real school names and logos are not used.
SPACE ACE

Company: Absolute
Suggested Retail Price: $59.95
Release Date: April 1994
Memory Size: 8 Megabits
Game Type: Action

Cartoons come to life when the evil Borf attacks Earth with the diabolical Infanto Ray that turns everyone into babies. You take on the action role of Dexter, Earth-hero, who must run, jump and blast his way to victory.

- Good graphics, many complex moves set up like a street fighting martial arts game with weak, medium and strong variations.
- Excellent character graphics and some interesting elements like the action in the backgrounds and the obstacles and traps you can make use of in your fighting strategy.

SUPER BASES LOADED 2

Company: Natsume
Suggested Retail Price: Not Available
Release Date: April 1994
Memory Size: 12 Megabits
Game Type: Baseball for one or two players

Super Bases Loaded 2 features Mode 7 scaling on infield plays and a more traditional overhead look when the ball is smacked into the outfield or over the wall. A special DSP chip is used to speed up the calculations necessary for the scaling effect. Like previous Bases Loaded games, the teams and players are fictitious. Options include Auto Fielding for either the infield or outfield, choosing the number of innings, and turning Errors On or Off. In the team edit mode you can create a squad of super players with skill ratings from one to eight in five skill categories.

You can play a 162-game season and check a full range of statistics including league leaders.

PIRATES OF DARK WATER

Company: Sunsoft
Suggested Retail Price: $59.99
Release Date: April 1994
Memory Size: 8 Megabits
Game Type: Comic action for one or two players

It's seven-plus stages of action on the seven seas of Mer where the king is dying and the pirate-lord Bloth will do anything to stop Ren, Ioz and Tula from saving the world from the Dark Water. Two of the heroes can take on the pirates simultaneously in a Battletoads type of fight that ranges vertically as well as horizontally and includes the ability to clobber your companion. The backgrounds are also full of actions with dragon riders flying to the attack and eventually landing in the foreground. Heroes use martial arts or their weapons, plus each of them has a special move that drains some of their energy.

- The infield animation looks great, but even with the DSP it is slow. You can create your own team. Great stats.
- The enemies are not very challenging, but they look great. The animation is stiff and depth perception can be difficult when you're fighting on the edge of a cliff reminiscent of Battletoads' games.

SUPER CHASE HQ

Company: Toita
Suggested Retail Price: Not Available
Release Date: February 1994
Memory Size: 8 Megabits
Game Type: Driving action

Criminal elements have taken to the road once again, and you're just the cop to drive them to justice. You'll race after the getaway car, which has a dramatic lead, and ram it into submission once you catch up to it.

- Good graphics. Passwords
- Driving control doesn't feel very realistic and the game is not overly challenging.
Pinball comes to the Super NES in a big way with American Technos’ three-in-one pinball simulation. Digitized graphics and sound add a lot to the real pinball feel. From the flippers to the Tilt control, Super Pinball feels right to the touch and the ball seems to move well. The best part of the three games—Blackbeard & Ironman, Wizard, and Jolly Joker are the hidden bonuses. The ultimate goal in any of these games is to open the Forbidden Door, but you'll have to score millions to see it. One nice option is that there is a competition mode of play in which four players can take alternating turns, trying to outscore the others.

F-1 POLE POSITION

F-1 Pole Position combines realism with variety for fast, two-player F-1 racing action. Although initially released last fall, the game appeared only in two markets. This spring, Ubi Soft makes F-1 Pole Position available across the country. Aside from the standard options like a season of World Grand Prix racing on 16 international tracks and having a Test Run Mode for checking out the tracks, F-1 Pole Position lets you choose both your car and team. Other useful options include control of weather and the number of laps to be raced.

SUPER PINBALL: BEHIND THE MASK

- Pinball comes to the Super NES in a big way with American Technos’ three-in-one pinball simulation. Digitized graphics and sound add a lot to the real pinball feel. From the flippers to the Tilt control, Super Pinball feels right to the touch and the ball seems to move well. The best part of the three games—Blackbeard & Ironman, Wizard, and Jolly Joker are the hidden bonuses. The ultimate goal in any of these games is to open the Forbidden Door, but you'll have to score millions to see it. One nice option is that there is a competition mode of play in which four players can take alternating turns, trying to outscore the others.

SUPER TROLL ISLAND

The Trolls must bring light and color to their threatened world in this action game with a strong puzzle element. You can select one of four Trolls, each with a special ability such as a super jump, faster running speed, tremendous strength or the ability to swim. In each short stage, the Troll must gather items and restore color to a black and white world by covering the entire territory and reaching hidden areas.

FUN ‘N’ GAMES

Fun ‘N’ Games combines puzzles, arcade games, a paint program and a music editor all in one Pak. The puzzles let you piece together creatures or outfits. The three arcade games are simple shooting or bopping games—shoot the asteroid or bop the clown. The paint program contains dozens of crazy patterns and Mario Paint-type stamps while the music editor lets you place notes on a scale to create songs. The game is Super NES Mouse compatible, but it can also be played with other controllers.

---

STRENGTHS

- The look, the feel and the sound is real pinball. Lots of bonus opportunities.
- The 3-D perspective of the entire pinball machine being shown in one screen is a bit unusual, but the speed of the ball seems realistic whether it’s in the back or front.

STRENGTHS

- Good steering control. A fun, two-player racer.
- The narrow view can make it difficult to see upcoming turns.

STRENGTHS

- Good graphics and some engaging puzzle-solving, but the theme is targeted towards younger players. A password lets you save stages.
- There isn't much challenge to most of the puzzles. The Troll theme is dated.

STRENGTHS

- Fun ‘N’ Games has lots of variety for younger players and artists, but none of the games, puzzles or creative tools are very complex and more advanced gamers may find them to be too limited.
- You need the Super NES Mouse for decent control, and if you have the Mouse, most likely you also have Mario Paint.
SOCER KID

When aliens swoop down and steal the 1994 World Cup, then smash up on an asteroid during their escape, the scene is set for Soccer Kid. He dribbles, he kicks, he shoots, he hates yellow cards. Soccer Kid uses his trusty soccer ball to attack fiends and reach new areas as he seeks the five pieces of the scattered World Cup.

* Soccer fans should enjoy the theme and graphics. Soccer Kid uses unique methods to make his way in the world.
* The theme isn't for everybody. Don't confuse this action game with a soccer sports game.

WALT DISNEY'S JUNGLE BOOK

Relive Mowgli's Disney adventure in the jungle with Baloo, Kaa the snake, the Dawn Patrol and Shere Khan in this exceptional NES game from Virgin. This month's review covers the "bear" necessities.

* Excellent animation and play control make Jungle Book one of the best NES action games in a long time. Great variety of stages. Action and Disney fans will love it.
* Baloo doesn't sing. Great price.

MARIO'S TIME MACHINE

Mario must go back in time to save Yoshi from the evil clutches of Bowser. Luckily, he has a time machine that can be set to various dates as far back as the age of dinosaurs. Once Mario has zapped himself back in time, he must find artifacts that Bowser and his Koopas have hidden. Clues to the artifacts and interesting facts about the period pop up when Mario hits information blocks. You can stomp Koopas and throw shells as in a regular Mario game, but Mario himself doesn't take damage, which means that in Mario's Time Machine, you'll have as much time as you'll need.

* A fairly realistic full-court basketball game with some interesting options.
* This game can be quite challenging due to the difficulty of controlling passes and shots. Quarters are very short and games are therefore low scoring.

BLUES BROS. JUKEBOX ADVENTURE

Jake and Elwood, the Blues Bros. of Saturday Night Live fame, have been captured by an evil juke box while on their way to a concert. You can play with either of the ultra cool blues stars, guiding them through weird landscapes where they must collect records to throw at enemies. The Both option lets you alternate play between the bros.

* This is a solid platform game with lots of challenge.
* The Blue Bros theme doesn't add anything to the game and seems dated.

TIP OFF

International basketball isn't the same high-scoring, dream-team affair of NBA and NCAA basketball, but this b-ball tournament has the feel of real hoops even on the small screen. In a couple of unique options, you can practice your half-court game, have a multi-player foul shot contest or choose from five skill levels for each team. There are eight international teams including the USA, Japan and six European teams. There are even close-ups of slam dunks.

* A better action interface than Mario Is Missing for the NES.
* The appeal of the game is very young, but young players may not have the reading skills to work through the clues.
PREHISTORIK MAN

Life for the caveman may have been bad, but existence for Prehistorik Man is totally rad. This rock 'n roll neanderthal bashes dinosaurs with a stick and flies on a primitive hang glider with the grace of a pteradactyl. Learn what's good to eat in this month's gourmet Game Boy review.

- Fun, good graphics and play control plus some entertaining stages and hidden areas

- Arrows indicate the arrival of monsters, which diminishes the challenge. Some backgrounds were so dark that you could hardly see your prehistorik man

A LOOK INTO THE GAMES OF THE FUTURE

PROJECT REALITY

About a month ago, Nintendo of America announced that games for the upcoming 64-bit Project Reality system would utilize a new generation of super ROM (Read Only Memory) chips with mega memory. The minimum memory configuration on Project Reality games will be 100 megabits, which is about five times the size of today's biggest Super NES games. Since much of video game graphics make use of character-based memory with a compression ratio of about 50 to 1 over conventional data storage, this 100 megabits represents a huge memory storehouse for the new generation of graphically intensive games. In historical terms, the minimum increase in game memory size for any video game system seems to be a factor of eight. The NES went from 256K games to a standard of 2 megabits and the Super NES has gone from 4 megabits up to 24 megabits and climbing. For Project Reality, that means you'll probably see games that are at least 800 megabits. With memory compression factored in, you'll end up with games that are hundreds of times the size of many Super NES games. You'll need that memory, too, because the new generation of realistic graphics made possible by Silicon Graphics' MIPS technology being used in the system will need plenty of data to keep spinning its incredible web of illusions.

The decision to use megachips rather than CO-ROM came down to the need for access speed. To generate realistic, quick moving graphic applications like flight sims and other 3-D environments, you need almost instant access to a huge data base. CD-ROMs have the huge data base necessary, but their data retrieval or access times are at least one to two million times slower than the new chips. CO-ROM is great for some applications like encyclopedias where speed isn't a factor and Nintendo may offer a CO-ROM accessory at some future time for the Project Reality control deck. But so far at least, no one has come up with a CO-ROM game that really provides anything that is both unique and fun, and CO-ROMs are an extremely expensive delivery device, especially when you consider the return. Sega's announced Saturn, only a 32-bit system, will cost about twice as much as Nintendo's vastly more powerful system in large part because it has a CO-ROM drive.
Touted as the biggest Final Fantasy game ever in Japan, Final Fantasy VI (which will be released in the U.S. this fall as Final Fantasy III) made an early landfall in America when it arrived at the Pak Watch desk. Currently, the producers at Square are translating and rewriting the 700 pages of text and making graphic changes to enhance the play for American gamers. The pictures shown here are of the finished Japanese game. What is clear from the moment you plug in the pak is that this game will blow away fans of Final Fantasy II and Mystic Quest with superior graphics. Many of the backgrounds in cinema scenes and battles are digitized images that give a more realistic feel to the game. Special effects also include a Mode 7 flight aboard a Chocobo and some cool animations of spells and attacks in the battle scenes.

As for the story, it's another fascinating mix of myth and technology, magic and reality. This Final Fantasy world has passed through an age without magic, and they've developed a mechanical technology. But now, certain people are beginning to use magic again, and that is causing problems.

What makes this game even more promising is the variety of play. Throughout the game you'll meet up with other characters and parties. You can join any of them, and by so doing you'll change your course toward the conclusion that is common to all of the paths. As a result, you'll be able to play FIII over and over and never have the same experience twice. One trip through the game should take about 80 hours, which means you'll be getting a lot for your money this October when the game ships.

The war in the gulf may be over, but the challenge of putting your piloting skills against a heavily armed foe remains with Seta's A.S.P. Air Strike Patrol. Your Pak Pilot had seen several versions of this game over the past six months, but the final version surprised us with some great new features including very realistic digitized dialogue. A.S.P. has the arcade feel of EA's Desert Strike, but it also contains realistic mission briefings and combat scores that seem more like they belong to a strategy game. The game has eight missions, but each mission is complex enough to require numerous sorties or air strikes. You'll cruise in low over the mountains toward your target in the F-14, then drop your semi-smart missiles on enemy installations. Fuel and ammo is limited, so you have to fly smart and get back to base. There isn't any high-speed dog fighting here, but then the real Desert Storm pilots ruled the skies unchallenged, as well. A.S.P. should be on deck later this spring.
Here's a Pak Watch puzzler: what's the biggest single sporting event in the world? It isn't the World Series or even Nintendo's Powerfest '94. Numero uno is the World Cup—soccer's once in four years international championship tournament. What makes it special in 1994 is that the World Cup is being held in the U.S. You can even win a trip to see it in our Player's Poll Contest. The official licensed soccer game to go along with the Cup is WorldCup USA '94 from U.S. Gold. It's an overhead, international soccer sim that includes the actual 24 finalists—the best soccer teams in the world. The video matches take place in the nine stadiums around the country that will hold the actual events. One to four players will be able to hit the pitch and a battery backed memory will save your progress toward the World Cup. If all this isn't international enough for you, the game also has eight languages to choose from including English, Spanish, French and German.

From across the Atlantic comes one of the most stunning combat games you're likely to see all year. Rise of the Robot's from Absolute utilizes state-of-the-art ray-tracing techniques and 3-D perspectives to create futuristic scenes that blew more than a few minds at last winter's CES; this Pak Peeker included. Although basically it's a fighting game, Rise also includes some adventure aspects and animated cinema scenes that make it seem like more of an action game. In the game, you are an experimental cyborg who must combat a morphing enemy called the Supervisor and all his lesser supervisors before they crush humanity with their mechanical munitions. Eurogamers eat this stuff up, but when the graphics are this good and smoothly animated, it's hard not to agree with them that the future is dark, yes, but also a lot of fun. Rise of the Robots is an exceptional showcase for the advanced graphics capability of the Super NES. (Your alternative is to shell out $700 bucks to play it on 3DO or an unknown amount of quarters when the arcade game hits the streets this spring.) Rise for the Super NES should debut this summer.

Kirby's first Super NES appearance is scheduled for this summer when Kirby's Tee Shot from Nintendo arrives. Some of you will recall that Pak Watch announced a game called Special Tee Shot last year. That game has been improved considerably from an interesting but indescribable sort of golf thing to a Kirby game that will appeal to anyone who likes a fun challenge. The basic idea is to put Kirby in the hole. Your score is dependent upon how many shots it takes. But the real action is in the incredible assortment of obstacles that make this anything but a straight putt. In some cases, you'll have to lob Kirby over trees or between islands and drop him straight into a hole. There are four levels of challenge with eight holes in each.
From the world of the Macintosh computer comes a 3-D arena battle that kept this Pak Patroler running for cover and gunning for glory. Spectre puts you in command of a cyber tank or battle craft in a cyber universe. You can pick up gas, ammo and heal items along with plenty of damage from enemy tanks as you hunt down flags that send you to ever higher levels of challenge. One or two players can enter the virtual battle. Four options await the dueling cyber tankers: an all-out Arena brawl, the strategic Flag Rally in which you collect flags for points, teaming up with a computer ally to capture the other guy's flag, or the cooperative Allied assault. One of the best parts of the game is that you can choose any of three configurations of tanks, or customize one of your own design. Your Pak Tanker was impressed by the control of his vehicle. In addition to good speed and maneuverability, you can jump high above the plain (useful for seeing enemies and goals over the horizon), zap to a new part of the level through hyperspace or take a warp zone to higher levels. Cybersoft is the new brand name of Gametek, and it seems that they'll be off to a great start when Spectre arrives this spring.

For those of you who liked Sony's Altered Space for Game Boy, Titus will soon introduce Monster Max with much the same type of challenge and look. Max is a teenage monster who just wants to have his own rock band, but an evil guy named Krond is running the planet and Max must go into training to defeat the fiend. Setting his Strat aside, he journeys through nine levels of intense puzzle action in three quarter view, multi-room stages. Although the game play was good, and often very challenging, this Pak Max was most impressed with the balance of the game. From the graphics to the story, to the items Max can use and the puzzles he must solve, all the elements really came together in a fun game. You can check out this monster Pak later this spring.

Some companies, like Interplay, just roll with the hits. In particular, their hit Clay Fighter is getting some new options and turbo speed in Clay Fighter Tournament. Pak Watch took a look at the new 24 megabit game and came away impressed. The tournament options include Double Elimination, Single Elimination and Sudden Death. In addition to the extra competition modes, up to eight players can join in the fun, taking turns with the original cast of fighters. That's not all that was improved in the game. The speed settings can now be increased to a lightning fast rate and the backgrounds where the fights take place have been created using Interplay's unique claymation effects. This Pak Puncher thinks Clay Tournament will turn out to be one of the best fighters ever.
PAK WATCH UPDATE

There are more ways than one to jam, and the NBA isn't the only place where the slam masters show off their technique. Sport Acclaim kept that in mind when they were working on Barkley: Shut Up And Jam! Sir Charles may be the only recognizable name in this street ball, dunkfest, but the action will be familiar to any fan of Jam, and that's just about everyone. The teams come from 'Hoods around the country and Phoenix where Sir Charles rules. Up to four players can play using teams with orbital jumping abilities just like Jam. Actually, just about everything in this game is just like Jam except it's rougher. You don't just slam dunk, you slam your opponents, too. Apparently, the Big Bark had his say in the development of Shut Up And Jam. Next month's Sports Scene will take a closer look at this game.

Direct from the jungles of central America comes some views of Activision's Super Pitfall Harry. Your Pak Watchers have been following the progress of this one with some interest due to the talented crew that Activision has put on the project. We also thought you might like to take a look at Battletech, the sequel to last year's MechWarrior. Bigger mechs and more realistic 3-D landscapes should add to the feel of the game while the play should be hotter with a greater emphasis on the actual battles. Although both games are looking good this spring, they won't hit the shelves until late summer or fall.

When our source at Square Soft stopped by the Pak Watch desk the other day, he not only brought with him the vast and inspiring Final Fantasy III, he also had tucked away a copy of Breath of Fire. In Japan, Breath of Fire was a Capcom release that met with considerable success, but Capcom licensed the game to Square for the American market. What Square got in the deal was an excellent RPG with a unique look and lots of play value. In this game, you control parties of four characters, some human and some quite monstrous, but all with widely varying skills. For instance, one sprite-like character can use magic to become a dragon, as seen in the screen shot below.

Your ever-vigilant Pak Watch reporters also came across Enix's 16-bit conversion of Dragon Warrior I & 2 for the Super Famicom. Although the games follow the same story as the NES versions, including the same monsters, villages, items and tasks, the graphics and music have changed, and in some instances the change is dramatic. One of our Pak Watch testers cranked the stereo during game play sessions due to the dramatic sound track. Enix America Corp. hasn't decided whether to translate the game and bring it out in the U.S. and they would love to hear from Dragon Warrior fans.

The news out of Bandai is that they will have Super NES and Game Boy versions of Power Rangers coming out by the end of the year. The version shown at Toy Fair in February was only 10% complete, but they hope to have a finished game ready by CES at the end of June. Pak Watch will keep you posted on this development project. Also from the realm of television and currently deep in development are Popeye for the Super NES from American Technos, Sylvester & Tweety from Sunsoft and Home Improvement from Absolute. Sunsoft's Speedy Gonzales should be the next Looney Tunes release for the Super NES, and it not only looks great, it has great play control and fast action that'll knock your sombrero off.

T*HQ is sponsoring a monster contest for its Sports Illustrated For Kids. The Ultimate Triple Dare Game Boy game. The game itself contains snowboarding, mountain biking and skateboarding, and the contest winner can choose a vacation package featuring one of the sports in exotic locations or... get this... take home $50,000. This Pak Picker's choice is to throw in the cash, but you can get details on the SI For Kids box.

Previously, Pak Watch mentioned that Kemco was working on Crazy Chase, a whacky race against time with a unique perspective. Now we can show it to you. This still-early version of Crazy Chase shows the first stage as you tumble down a mountain trail with rolling logs, banana peels and other less hilarious obstacles like axes all trying to slow down your clown.

A permanent slow-down has been called for EA's Mutant League Hockey. The Mutant League characters are going to be getting a facelift and a new lease away from sports games. EA hopes to have several Mutant games in the future, but they'll be action oriented.

At the ACME coin-op show this March, Capcom announced that Super Street Fighter II Turbo was on its way. It may be at your local arcade already. According to our Pak Watchers at Capcom, the updated quarter-muncher will feature a new character who is said to be the ultimate boss. What's his name? We'll race you to the arcade.

Here
Our goal is to try and preserve classic videogame magazines from years gone by before they are lost forever.

Thanks goes out to all the people who make this possible. From the original editors and writers, to everyone involved in acquiring and digitizing these magazines.

People interested in helping us out, in whatever way possible. Either by donating classic magazines, scanning, editing or distributing them, visit us at http://www.retromags.com

We are only interested in preserving classic magazines that are at least 5 years out of print.

We have no desire or intention to profit from these in any way. So please, if you come across people trying to sell these releases, don't support them!

Thank You and ENJOY!
